

Improv and Storytelling Showcase Application

Take your work from the classroom to the stage! Learn how Piven's signature improvisation exercises and theatre games function in performance to create dynamic improvised pieces. Students have the opportunity to form their own ensembles and develop their own performance concepts under improv instructor Tom Herman's expert guidance. To highlight Piven's mission to celebrate each individual's unique voice, the Showcase program will also feature storytelling workshops with master storyteller Kevin D'Ambrosio. The program culminates with students taking the stage to perform in Story and Sketch: Piven's Fourth Annual Improv and Storytelling Series, sharing both improvised ensemble stories and rehearsed individual stories with the wider community and our professional season patrons.

Once your application has been submitted, you may be asked to audition.

Program Dates*:

Rehearsals: September 18–October 23; Mondays, 7:00pm–10:00pm

Performances: Fridays, November 3 & November 10
